LCP membership gives you access to efficient, compliant procurement platforms with pre-qualified, experienced contractors.

2020 has been a year full of challenges and as we approach the festive season there is plenty to reflect on. At LCP we have been busier than ever, supporting more members and engaging more suppliers than any previous year in our history and we are looking forward to building on our success in 2021 and beyond.

What we've been doing

LCP Webinar

In early November we held our first webinar which was a great success.

Over 50 attendees joined the event, representing the majority of our members, and were given an instructive presentation on fire safety regulations and the Hackitt review by Lucy Witts, Head of Fire Consultancy at Frankham Risk Management, followed by a round table discussion with three of our Major Works contractors. Each contractor, (Wilmott Dixon, Graham and NFC Homes) shared their experience of how the industry has adapted to the challenges caused by Covid-19 and this was followed by a lively Q&A session which both members and contractors found informative and engaging.

We will be organising more Webinars in 2021 so look out for invites in the new year.

Brokerage

Our DPS brokerage function has proved to be a big hit since we launched it this summer. More than half of the members who have tendered via the DPS in the last 6 months have chosen to use it, many of them for multiple procurements.

The key benefits are the amount of time it saves their project teams and the additional supplier engagement support available.

Salix Funding

Many of our members have successfully secured Salix funding to deliver energy efficiency projects and reduce carbon emissions. If you're one of them, or are in the process of applying, you will need to procure your project via a PCR2015 compliant route – LCP can support you to ensure your procurement runs smoothly, reaches the right suppliers and is delivered on time.
